

Project summary description:

Install a "Little Free Library" near the MiWuk Child Development lab west campus. (See attachments)
I've met with Judy Lanchester and we will be able to recycle wood and windows from the demolition of the old district office buildings. The small structure will be created and built by our district carpenters at no charge. There may be a charge for cement which I am hoping will be covered by a Child Development Club fund raiser. If there are enough funds from the fund raiser we will be able to purchase the registered plaque, if there are not enough funds, the plaque will be donated by me. If there are excess funds from the fund raiser the money will be used to purchase books. The registration and upkeep will be the responsibility of the Child Development Club. The ongoing supply of books (if needed) could be donated by the MJC community on an as needed basis. I have met with the Child Development Club and they are excited to participate in this project, they will organize a fund raiser and have agreed to be the stewards of the Little Free Library. I have also met with Bryan Justin Marks and he also supports the Little Free Library. If this venture is successful, we may also want a Little Free Library on east campus as well.
