Plant of the Week: 11.03.20

Ming Aralia

This week we bring you the Ming Aralia (Polyscias fruticosa). This is a perennial evergreen plant with fragrant foliage and has an ease of care. The plant needs to be kept inside where it’s warm and preferably more humid as they are native to India.

It is also recommended to place in an area with bright light, although they like to dry out between watering especially during the peak growing season. Grooming of the dead leaves should be done about once a week to keep it looking its best.

This can be a very long lived plant as long as the soil is allowed to dry out between watering.

Come see and/or purchase these beauties on Tuesdays from 8 am to 2 pm in the MJC East Campus Nursery located behind the East Campus Ag Building across from the Gymnasium on Coldwell

- First come, first served
- The MJC Nursery is a student-based learning center
- Information provided by student Katie Coe, West Campus Ag Intern for Mr. Pollard

The MJC Nursery Price List link is located on the MJC Web Site at: www.mjc.edu/ag