MJC Regional Fire Training Center Area Fire Agencies,

The MJC Regional Fire Training Center's Fire Science Program is seeking to become more accessible to more students and emergency service personnel. We are looking to coordinate efforts to maximize training delivery, both at the RFTC and at satellite sites, our partner's locations, strategically located throughout our college region (Stanislaus, South San Joaquin, and Tuolumne Counties).

We are seeking funding requests from area fire agencies to assist in the creation or expansion of their training facility. These funding requests may include classroom, grounds, or training props needs. Funding grants will range from $1,000 to $25,000. Satellite Site funding will allow for additional courses and trainings to be offered at student locations, especially for on-duty Emergency Services personnel, who otherwise would not take courses & trainings.

To apply for funding;
